If you need to use an accented character, simply type the base letter and press either the \uparrow or \downarrow key.

For example, to get \acute{e} , type the letter e, then press the \uparrow key and select the symbol from the accented character list.

You can select a symbol either by

1. clicking on it,
2. pressing the associated digit key,
3. using the \leftarrow and/or \rightarrow keys and by pressing return when the desired character is highlighted.

Read this really carefully as accents matter! Dismiss

This shows how many you have got correct, you need a run of all correct to complete the block.

The whole point is to keep practising and to do it again if you get it wrong. It might be annoying but it is the point of it.

If you get it wrong 2 or 3 times write it out carefully in your vocab book and then use this to help you

Some people cheat and take a photo of this page. It means the homework gets done, but means you don't actually learn the words. It is better to use multi choice OR write down the ones you can't remember if you are finding it tricky!

There is an App for iPhone and Android

BE CAREFUL – it doesn't always show the dictation tasks so you only do 67% of any block on the app – You can open the webpage on a phone or tablet though (so no excuses!).
